Keeping Up . . . With Uplanders

By V. V. P.

COFFEE AT NIGHT — BAH

During the daytime we really enjoy our coffee but time after time we have sworn off drinking the stuff after 5 p.m.

The other night, however, with a group in our wonderful city park, the coffee aroma was so enticing we accepted a cup . . . . and then cussed ourselves most of the night.

So, please . . . dear friends, from now on, help me to turn down the nighttime cup of java. We'll accept your offers, of course, any other time.

INCORPORATION FEVER

Cucamonga civic leaders are getting concerned about losing their area to Upland through this community grabbing at it. For one citizen, we can assure Cucamonga people, Upland will not seek their area.

If they really knew it, Cucamonga people are much better off as part of the county rather than being in a separate city.

Actually, there is an element of unfairness about the city and the county tax rates. The so-called general county tax rate is the same on all property in the county whether it is inside or outside a municipality. In Upland, for example, we pay the $1.68 city tax rate plus the county tax rate. Cucamongans, at the same time, pay only the county tax rate. Yet, Cucamongans and Uplanders are supposedly receiving the same services from the county.

We appreciate the fine municipal services we get in Upland but the fact remains Cucamongans are getting good governmental service — and paying only the one rate — the county tax.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Always Remember Your First Obligation is to Your Conscience" — reads a phrase that we cherish. Conflicting demands frequently face a person. By doing one thing, we might sidestep embarrassment; by doing another we might gain applause or by doing something else we quiet the loudest voices. We ask ourselves: "What is the Right Thing To Do?"

So, we think of the phrase — and then ask ourselves how will our conscience react to it tomorrow, the next day and the next year. The first obligation is to one's innermost feelings.

RUSSIAN VISITORS

The farmers from Russia are in California now. Along with almost everyone else, we would like to see them. The Russians know that and so do the officials who are helping to manage their tour. Consequently, the press and the public are cautioned against any undue clamor at a chance to get a glimpse of the visitors.

They are going to be in the Riverside Inn for breakfast tomorrow morning, but there is no chance for anyone to talk with them—unless visitors wish to talk. As to seeing them, we have been advised thusly: "Availability of Russian visitors for interviews will depend entirely upon the desires of the visiting delegation".

Head man in the visiting group is Vladimir Vladimirovich Matskevich. He has a position comparable with that of the first assistant secretary of agriculture in this country. A 45-year old politician, his name is pronounced like this: Vla-DEE-mir Mats-KAY-vich.

TAX CHANGES

The State board of equalization calls it "intercounty tax free-loading" but San Bernardino County supervisors and others call it a real mess — this being about the current order for the local assessed valuation to be increased 39 per cent by Sept. 1. The order to change the basis for assessments came less than a week ago. Actually, to make the stenographic changes would require more time than is available if all the employes and machines worked constantly from now through the end of the month.

The state board declares the change was ordered in this and other counties to keep an equal basis between counties and to prevent any county from unfairly siphoning off state school funds.

There may be some merit to the new assessment basis but under the short time allowed, it is reportedly impossible to make the change. It is up to the people in our courthouse to solve the dilemna. The situation is critical, not only for the county taxes but also for the city of Upland tax income.

900 CHILDREN AIDED

Casa Colina, one of the nation's unusual centers for helping people, has enabled nearly 900 children to get new physiques — and a bright new life — since its founding. While the Chino home and hospital for crippled children has served polio, victims, it has aided many, many other youngsters with ailments.

Scope and service of the institution is limited by its finances. Its record has been made possible by a generous public.

Colorado River Water is Being Used For First Time in Upland District

Tioga Water Co. Gets Supply For Irrigation

Colorado river water is being used for the first time in the Upland district.

The Tioga Mutual Water Co., providing irrigation water to land owners west of Upland, is the first local user.

The Chino Basin Municipal Water District is the local agency that has constructed pipe lines and reservoirs to make possible use of the Colorado river water. An aqueduct from the Colorado river traverses this area on Fifth St., where water is obtained for local use.

OTHER CUSTOMERS

City of Upland, West End Consolidated Water Co. and the San Antonio Water Co. are other agencies that may at a later date obtain Colorado river water through the Chino basin district, according to Col. Howard Clark, manager. City of Ontario has a reservoir on Eighth St. at Euclid Place, which will receive Colorado river as soon as a chlorination station is completed.

Delivery of water to the Tioga Co. is possible through the installation of a main pipe line and construction of reservoirs on Benson. The Tioga gets its water from a reservoir just north of Foothill Blvd. The Metropolitan has a basic charge and the rate increases in accordance with the higher elevation to which the water must be pumped to the point of delivery.

In an election several years ago, residents in western part of the county voted to form the Chino Basin Metropolitan Water district as an agency that would qualify in buying Colorado river water from the Metropolitan Water District. In the meantime, the Chino district has installed pumping stations, pipelines and reservoirs. Various local distributing agencies are privileged to buy the water as needed to supplement their own sources.

With increasing demands for water, it is likely use of Colorado river water will gain as a supplemental supply.

300 Acres May Be Used in Rock, Sand Project

With 200 acres already involved as a site for a big sand and rock development project, an additional 100 acres may be used for the same purpose, according to reports yesterday.

The area involved is west of Benson Ave. extending north of 14th St. West End Consolidated Water Co. owns the 200 acres between 14th and 16th Sts., which is involved in a proposed zone change.

An announcement has come from the San Antonio Water Co. that a 100 acre tract north of 16th St. may also be used by a newly organized rock and sand company. Kenneth Long is the prospective lessee of the 100 acre tract. Of this 100 acre tract, 60 acres are owned by the San Antonio Co. and 40 acres by the Pomona Valley Protective Assn.

Application for a zone change for the 200 acre tract has been approved by the San Bernardino county planning commission. A final hearing will be held by the San Bernardino county board of supervisors but no date has been set.

Citrus growers and officials concerned with water conservation in general have expressed approval of the idea of excavating rock and sand pits in the area. The pits, according to Don Adams, manager of the San Antonio Water Co., will be serviceable as settling basins during rainfall periods.

It is understood, however, that a group of Foothill Blvd. residents have filed a petition of protest against the zone change.

College To Sign Up Soon

With programing of students for Sept. 12 Chaffey college under way, Registrar Leonard Mather urges early attendance for testing, counseling and class selection. Counselors are in the college office daily at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 during August. Students for both day and evening college are being processed and there is no tuition for attending.

College registration day is Sept. 8. Day college students who have been programed must attend on that date. Freshman day is scheduled for Sept. 9.

Mural is Feature of Exhibit In San Bernardino County Fair

Members of the Alta Loma Community club will have an exhibit glorifying their home area at the San Bernardino County Fair at Victorville, Aug. 24.

Built and decorated as a grape arbor with fruited vines over latticed walls the display will be 10 feet by 20 feet. The interior will have a 20 foot mural created by Mrs. Arthur H. Allen, 7275 Amethyst Ave. The mural depicts the Alta Loma community.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen head the committee planning and arranging the exhibit. There will be about 12 entries featuring citrus, vegetables, grapes and other products of the community.

In line with the motto of the fair, "Blow Your Own Horn" there will be a large cornucopia overflowing with the products of Alta Loma in a prominent place.

The materials for the booth were loaded on trucks and taken to Victorville Monday night.

Upland Qualifies To Win Award Due To Accident Record

Upland today is qualified to rank among the cities with no traffic fatalities in three months.

In a special opportunity for "deathless" communities to win citations, Upland is scheduled to receive from the National Safety council a special award. The period from May 27 to Aug. 15 had been set as a period in which cities without traffic accident fatalities would receive special honors.

Upland's report has gone to the San Francisco office of the council and in due time a framed certificate will be hanging from the wall in the police department.

Prepare Alta Loma Fair Exhibit

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Allen, 7276 Amethyst Ave., Alta Loma, head the committee in charge of the Alta Loma Community Association exhibit in the San Bernardino County Fair at Victorville. They stand before a large mural done by Mrs. Allen which will be used as a background for the exhibit of Alta Loma products.

Water Hearing Tonight

First of two open forum type of meetings on the proposed $1,200,000 water bond issue will be held in Cucamonga tonight.

In the Central school building at 7:30 p.m., leaders of the Cucamonga County Water district will present reasons why they believe the project is needed. Interested persons will be privileged to ask questions and present arguments against the proposal, according to Frank Van Fleet, secretary to the district board.

Second public hearing on the proposal will be held in the Alta Loma school house Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m. The election will be Aug. 30.

Directors of the water district met yesterday afternoon in a regular session to discuss various problems in connection with the election and in preparing for carrying out terms of the vote if it is favorable.

Wide support is being given the election issue. Among endoresements are those from the Cucamonga Basin Protective Assn., the Cucamonga Service club, Alta Loma Community club and the Cucamonga chamber of commerce.

Election voting booths will be in the Cucamonga Central school and the Alta Loma school.

Gilbert, has been the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Kime, 273 S. Sultana Ave. She also visited relatives in Long Beach and is returning home Sunday.

It Is Now "Holt Blvd." Instead of A St. in Ontario

It is now "Holt Boulevard" instead of A St.

At least, the Ontario city council is on record today changing the name of the principal downtown east-west thoroughfare to Holt Blvd. to conform to the county wide planning program and to conform to the name of the thoroughfare in Pomona.

$7,000 an Acre Paid for Lemon Grove Here

At a price of $7,000 an acre, reported to be the highest ever paid, 10 acres of lemons have been purchased by Robert and Sidney Ashton of Covina. The seller was Ralph Reynolds of San Dimas.

The property is on 22nd St. about three-quarters of a mile west of Mountain Ave. It is part of a 20-acre grove set out by he late Elmer Mathews about 24 years ago.

The buyers are long-time citrus ranch operators and they own other property in the Upland distict. It is eported some of their citrus holdings in Covina have been purchased by subdividers and thus they have moved more of their agricultural holdings east.

A call to the Sidney Ashton home in Covina by The Upland News confirmed the report the property had been purchased at $7,000 an acre.

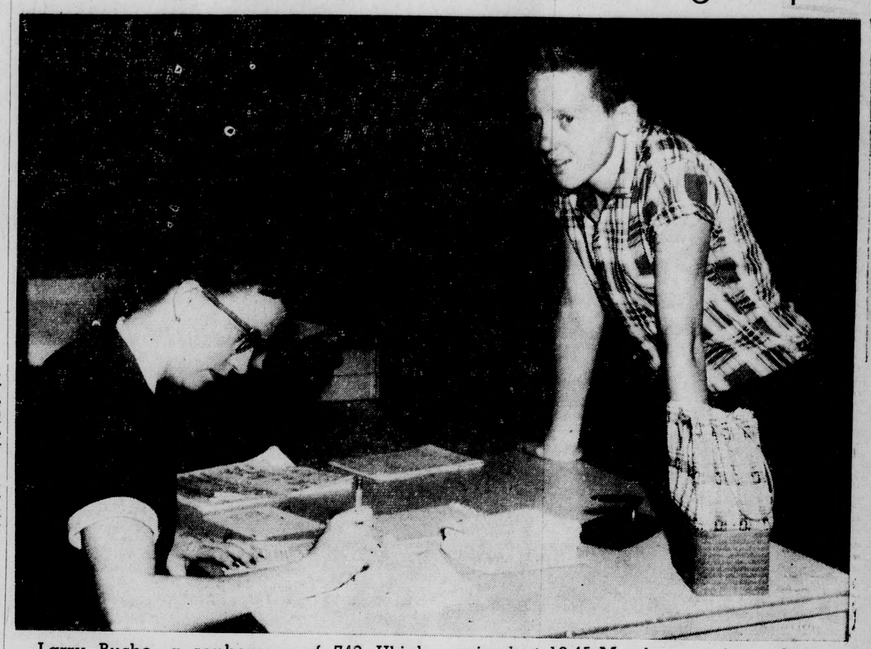

Busch To Head Library Board

Henry Busch, Upland attorney, was named president of the Upland library board Tuesday night during an annual organizational meeting that saw the resignation of Mrs. A. L. Webber accepted and Mrs. Leslie Hoag chosen to take her place.

Robert Thrall, local accountant, continued as secretary of the board with other members, Rev. Trusten A. Hart and Harold Cook, superintendent of the Upland school district, continuing on the board.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ingalls, Alta Loma, have returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Detroit Lakes, Minn.

Shall W. Foothill Be Open for Business?

Whitney to Decide on Zoning Issue After Learning All Facts

Rezoning of W. Foothill Blvd. frontage for business use may rest upon the decision of George Whitney, chairman of the Upland Planning commission and he "will not decide until he gets all the information and is fully acquainted with all the factors involved".

Absent from the planning commission meeting last month when a three to three vote prevailed on the zoning change application, Mr. Whitney said he expected to be at the Aug. 25 meeting. He explained yesterday he would be prepared to act on the matter only after "hearing both sides of the proposal".

Involved is the question of opening to business all the north side of the boulevard frontage west to San Antonio Ave. The proposed business frontage would have a depth of 400 feet. Applying for the zone change are Harold Stewart and Clifford Cochran, owners of the property.

First public hearing on the application last month resulted in a "Yes" vote from William Kistinger, Jack Clark and Dr. H. G. Brubaker. Voting "No" on the question were Dan Maher, Mrs. Dorothy Gardner and Ralph Hunt. If the six commission members vote again as they did in July, the final decision will rest on Mr. Whitney, who is a citrus grower, local civil leader and an attorney with a Los Angeles firm.

"I know nothing special about the zoning question at present", Mr. Whitney said. "I surely will be glad to give the matter every consideration but I will not, of course, reach any decision until both sides of the proposal are thoroughly presented".

Know Your Police Is Subject of Special Feature

Do you know your policemen?

In a special feature beginning today, The Upland News is seeking to acquaint all residents with their public servants. A picture of each officer and a report on his work will be published from time to time in The News.

Desk Sergeant Fred Strohte is the first subject in the new series. Turn to page one, section two for the interesting feature about Upland officers.

Local Tax Rate Uncertain Due To Confusion

Upland city councilmen at their meeting tonight will be faced with the problem of trying to fix the annual tax rate without knowing the total of the assessed valuation.

Sept. 1 is the deadline for all municipalities to legally declare the amount of money needed for various governmental funds and the tax rate needed to produce those funds. To meet that deadline, the councilmen will hold at least one adjourned meeting between now and end of the month.

Elwin Alder, assistant city manager, is in close touch with officials in the courthouse relative to the exact amount of property assessments. The state board of equalization has ordered a 39 per cent increase in the assessments. It will take several weeks to arrive at the totals. In the meantime, local officials will decide on some course to meet the deadline.

Based on the customary procedure in arriving at the assessed valuation of Upland property, total for 1955-56 is $11,287,300. A 39 per cent valuation increase would add more than $4,000,000 to this total.

New High School Opens For Early Sign Up

The new Upland High school opened for business Monday with Alexander McLeish, principal installed in his office in the administration wing.

There was little time for him to relax as the business of getting the new plant in running order before Sept. 12 will keep him and the skeleton staff on duty with him busy.

Thos. Glasheen, assistant principal, Mrs. Margaret Storms, and Mrs. Alma Brough were also on duty.

Workmen still were busy in the administration building, classroom and gymnasium section and gardeners, outside men and telephone company workers were also on the job.

Larry Buche, 749 Ukiah way, had the distinction of being the first student to have official business with the staff.

Larry sought Mrs. Storms, guidance secretary to have a course on his schedule changed from typing to biology.

"My mother thought biology was a better subject", he said.

He plans to be an architect.

The present staff will be joined Sept. 1 by all other staff members who will have six days to prepare for school opening day Sept. 12.

35 Trees Set Out in Olivedale

Thirty-five trees were set out yesterday on Olivedale park in accordance with a master plan for development of the five acre recreational area. This is in addition to the trees that have been previously set out. One new row is on the west side of the grassed area and other trees were placed throughout the park site.

The plan calls for picnic tables and play areas to be in certain locations in the park with trees spotted to give the most possible shade in the future. Within a few years, the trees will be mature enough to add shade, color and recreational environment of the area, according to Elwin Alder, assistant city manager.

Inventor of Musical Instrument Presents Unique Exhibition

By Gerry McGeer

A single creation combining the sounds of 12 musical instruments and 25 different drum effects is the invention of Harry C. Chamberlin, 354 Winn Dr. He is manufacturing his recently perfected device in a building at 161 E. Arrow Hwy.

The incredible uncanny "Chamberlin" about the size of a large T. V. cabinet has black and white keys and controls that change the sound effect at the will of the player. Incidentally, it is played in accompaniment to a Hammond organ, or piano, the the player using a hand on each instrument. It may be played alone also.

Invited to hear it with a group of electronics experts and musicians we arrived after the demonstration had begun. It sounded like a heavenly orchestra so we paused outside until the number was finished. That particular selection was strings and the organ, amplified by sound.

MANY SOUNDS

Later, the demonstration included vibraphone, the piano, wind instruments including the French horn and many drum sounds as well as the guitar.

Mr. Chamberlin explains that anyone who can play the piano can play the Chamberlin.

The amazing thing about it is the "aliveness" of the instruments as the musical notes come through. There is no canned quality but true mellowness of tone and an unbelievable resonance.

Mr. Chamberlin came to Upland with his wife and two children four years ago. He had been in the insulation business in Wisconsin. His father and sister, Charles H. Chamberlin and Mrs. Helen Chamberlin, live here so he came to Upland to regain his health.

In the thirties he had taken a course in radio and television. During the war he was in charge of sub assembly work on B29 airplanes. In this connection he was sent to Boeing's Seattle plant for training. Before the war was over he was in charge of the ground testing before the big planes went into final flight.

LOVES MUSIC

Mr. Chamberlin is a musician. "I'd always wanted a Hammond organ and finally I bought one but I didn't feel I could afford the chimes. They're $600 and that's a lot of money.

"I was really sick when we came to Upland so I told my wife I'd start working on developing my own chimes. It was a hobby. That was four years ago and our home was my work shop. My wife, who is a very particular housekeeper had a terrible time with wires all over the place and all sorts of equipment cluttering up the house.

"One day something clicked and I knew I had it. I'd discovered that if I could play the chimes I could play anything!

"That was two years ago and at that time I don't think any of the family thought I'd ever amount to anything.

BREAKS BEGAN

Two years ago things started to break in other ways. The inventor had a chance to sell but wasn't satisfied.

"He's a perfectionist", Mrs. Chamberlin explained. "He had to be satisfied".

There are some features of the device that are still secret. One important one has just been perfected. There is a range of three octaves. The control shifts the sounds to the various instruments, only one of which may be played at a time. But various chord effects of the sound are possible, as the inventor demonstrated. He says it is possible to have 1,000 sound effects!

He demonstrated the zany effects achieved by Spike Jones.

"Why, it should be able to talk," we said.

"I did have it talking", he said, "but that was too much for people to believe. This machine plays only music".

Some of the people at the demonstration had heard one sound effect depicting a car crash that was so realistic they said they were sitting on the edges of their chairs, the breaking of glass was so effective!

SOUNDS ON TAPE

As we understand the method, the sounds are on tape. Originally recorded, they are played by striking the notes, just as a piano is played. The perfection to some extent depends on the expertness of the first take but Mr. Chamberlin says the sounds won't wear out as records do and tests have been made to verify this. Actually, one test played a single note two million times to test its durability. The machine has very few moving parts and weighs about 100 pounds.

While it is going to be a bit expensive for the average family there will be many people who won't be satisfied until they own a Chamberlin.

It will have an important place in TV where it will certainly simplify sound production and the same is true of movies. Only an electronics engineer could have thought it up and then had the patience to stick with it until it was accomplished. Only in this age of miracles, few of us understand, could the Chamberlin have been created.

It's really something. We salute Upland's newest industry!

Mrs. Linsley Loved It All! From Here to Arctic Circle

Mrs. Maud Linsley, 906 N. Euclid Ave., has returned from a seven weeks' vacation that took her by car over the Alaskan Hwy. to Fairbanks and by plane flight over the Arctic circle.

She was accompanied by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max Russell, West Covina.

"We had all sorts of weather, even snow in McKinley park where McKinley Mt. is located", she reported.

"We went through customs, U. S. and Canadian six times on the trip. As for travelling over the Alaskan Hwy., in Canada, the authorities didn't ask how much money we carried, but had to be satisfied we had enough for any emergency.

"We found sleeping accommodations adequate. They were not as luxurious as some in this country. Included was a stove and we cooked with all kinds of fuel.

"In McKinley park we had a Yukon stove ,indoors , like a box, perched up on rocks and sand in a wood frame. We slept in sleeping bags and our light was a lantern, hung over the stove. Actually we lived in a tent with boarded sides. It was our most expensive accommodation. It cost $12 for the three of us.

"We must have seen 1,000 caribou in McKinley park. There were five large herds of about 200 heads in each.

"We did all the usual things, fished and took pictures.

"We met people from all over the world and many parties with Indian guides.

"We didn't go to Eskimo land but they brought Eskimos into Fairbanks and we saw them dance and do their famous blanket toss.

"We travelled back without any delay on the roads after traveling the trail of '98. We saw Dawson city. The famous River boat made its first trip down the Yukon river to Dawson city. All people in the town turned out in costumes for the event.

"Wonderful trip", she summed it up. "Absolutely out of this world! But I don't recommend it unless people are good sports and ready to take what comes".

Financing of Sewer System To Be Decided

Where to place the major and minor sewer lines in the city in accordance with a long range plan will be known soon but how to finance the gigantic project is yet to be determined, according to officials in the city hall.

The Montgomery Co., engineering firm, will soon complete its survey in plotting the location of the sewer system of the future so that new installations will be placed in accordance with a master plan. In general, subdividers must provide for their own improvements on their property, including domestic water lines, sewer lines, sidewalks and the like.

At various locations within the city, however, major sewer lines will be needed to connect with the sewage disposal plant in Ontario. The outfall line now on Campus Ave. is reported to be reaching its capacity. Additional lines will be needed to serve an anticipated population of 65,000 people within the Upland city limits.

Upland city councilmen will at some future date be faced with deciding how the major lines will be financed, either through a bond issue or direct taxation.

The present sewer system was installed with money obtained in bonds voted by residents and it is possible such a procedure would be followed in the future. When the Montgomery engineering report is filed with the city council, discussion will be started on how to execute the city-wide master plan.

To Pull Switch For Night Races

Night racing under lights is definitely scheduled to begin Saturday night at Upland Memorial park, D. D. Domes, president of the Upland association announced Wednesday. Mayor E. Tweed Stone will pull the switch to light the track.

"We're expecting the biggest track ever to enter here", Mr. Domes said. "There will be between 35 to 40 entrants. We'll be making history in Quarter Midget racing here Saturday night".

Racing will start at seven with the first heat race scheduled for 8 p.m. Time of lighting up will depend on when dusk falls.

TWINS CONVENTION

The Southern California annual twins convention will be held at Huntington Beach, Sept. 4. Mothers of twins entering their children in the event should write to the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce for particulars.

Upland High School Staff on Job

Alexander McLeish, principal, Thomas Glasheen, assistant principal, Mrs. Margaret Storms, guidance secretary, and Mrs. Alma Brough, attendance secretary, were on hand Monday at the Upland High school when it opened to take registrations. This group and other members of the administrative staff will be on the campus to receive registrations and to handle other matters in connection with the start of classes Sept. 12.

A puzzle in the city hall is the figure on water consumption for the fiscal year.

Uplanders did not use as much water for the 12 months of 1954-55 as they did during the previous year, according to figures compiled by Mrs. Lillian Schubert, secretary in the water office.

For the last 12 months, a total of 112,751,495 cubic feet of water was sold as compared with 118,123,039 during the previous 12 months.

A record is kept of the water pumped and the water sold and in both classifications, the most recent 12 months showed a decrease compared with the previous 12 months.

With the population on the increase, some observers are wondering about why the decreased water consumption.

Kaiser Gives $304 to Chest

Check of $304.79 was given to the Upland Community chest by Kaiser Steel Co. employes last night and $116.96 went to the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Community chest.

As part of the newly inaugurated "Aid" plan at Kaiser Co. the various communities were alloted chest funds. The money comes from the employes in a pay roll deduction plan and is distributed to the welfare and character building agencies throughout the citrus area.

Lloyd Butler and Dr. K. R. Wilcox were among the Uplanders at the meeting at the Kaiser Co. plant last night. Roy Muehlberger, head of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma chest group, received the allotment for his community.

At a later date, the Upland chapter of the Red Cross will be given a check of $313 from the Kaiser employe "Aid" plan and the Cucamonga Red Cross will receive $69.11.

The "Aid" plan is regarded as a practical approach to the opportunity of helping agencies in various communities. Kaiser employes give on a voluntary basis and within Upland 135 employes are contributing to the local funds. An employe average of $20 a year is contributed to the various causes.

Obedience Match In Park Saturday

The Madonna of the Trail Obedience club will hold an obedience practice match for their dogs, at the Upland Memorial park, Saturday, with judging at 1 p.m. Registration of entries will be at 11 a.m. and all dog owners with obedience trained pets are invited to participate.

There is a nominal entry fee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Reed of Fontana will be the judges and Earl Gardner is the show secretary.

Refreshments will be served.

Rabies Vaccination Clinic Late Today

A rabies vaccination clinic will be held in the Monte Vista fire station Thursday from 5 to 7 p. m. as a service to interested owners of dogs. The clinic will be conducted by the San Bernardino county health department.

License fee for spayed female dogs and male dogs will be $1.50 and for female dogs, in addition to $1.50 vaccination fee, it is reported.

All former residents of Missouri are invited to the annual summer picnic at Bixby park, Long Beach, Aug. 28, 1 p.m.

KEEPING UP

the south and east, returned with a price list he picked up at Bardstown, Ky. "See there", he pointed to the "Lodging per night, 25c". Always a jolly fellow, the slightly robust citrus fruit salesman added: "That's how they do it down south". We read the price list further: "What's this?" we queried, "Did you get your horse stabled free?"

It so happens the Talbott Tavern in Bardstown has been in business for more than 100 years. What Charlie displayed was a photograph of a price list of an earlier generation. Charge for "Eating" was listed at 25 cents. "Oats for Horse" was charged at 1 cent a gallon.

"Anyway the food at the historic place was very good", he observed.

Uplanders Attend Midget Race Board

Board members and track officials of the Quarter Midget association met Friday for dinner at the Chuck Wagon, San Dimas for dinner and discussion of Quarter Midget affairs.

Present from the Upland association were Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Domes, Mrs. Doris Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berger, John Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Graham.

The board was advised that six cars from Upland will enter County Fair races on Aug. 27, at Victorville.

With lights installed in Upland Memorial park at the track racing in Upland will be changed to the first and third Saturday nights each month. Races have been held on Sundays.

An invitation from the San Bernardino association for a family picnic and races on Labor Day was read at the meeting.

Camera Fans Plan Future Activities

Upland's camera fans held their second organization meeting Tuesday night at Upland Memorial park. Don Bigley and Robert Joines told of plans for the future and described similar organizations.

No name has been chosen for the club but last night's meeting decided there would be no dues but a graduated scale of entry fees for prints shown at future meetings with the beginners and amateurs paying the smallest fee, which was tentatively set at 10 cents and 15 cents, respectively.

It was decided to hold the next meeting Sept. 13.

Following the business session those present held an open discussion on prints brought to the meeting.

Clarence Gordon Completes Training

Clarence Gordon, the son of Mrs. Donnie Gordon, 9720 Church St., Cucamonga, recently completed a week of special training at Fort Crockett, Tex. The training included a tactical road march through civilian areas.

He entered the U. S. Army in 1954 and is a driver in the First Armored Division, regularly stationed at Ford Hood. Young Gordon attended Chaffey high school.

With his wife, the former Miss Helen Evans of Upland, he is making his home in Killeen, Tex. They will return to Upland when he is discharged next January.

George Beavers Are Honored Before Going To Kansas Home

Rev. and Mrs. George S. Beare, 377 S. Campus Ave., were honored by members of the Seventh St. Mennonite church at an evening party previous to their departure for Hesston, Kansas, where the Rev. Beare will be on the staff of Hesston college next year. They were accompanied by their granddaughter Eleanor Horst who will go to school while away.

The party was sponsored by the Christian Fellowship hour with Guy Hostettler as chairman. Presentation of a monetary gift was made to the honorees.

Refreshments were served by the Women's Missionary auxiliary with Mrs. Arthur Swartzendruber and Mrs. Floyd Hauder as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Beare and daughter Eleanor left Thursday.

Social Service Board Plans for Future

Plans for the San Bernardino County Council of Community services were discussed at the first meeting of the new board of directors and in attendance from here were Will R. Mason, Upland and David Hernandez, Cucamonga and Mrs. Dorothy Hull Groneweg, Ontario.

T. D. Sherrard, executive director of the council, discussed aims and purposes and said the group should become the leading force in the extension of existing social services and the development of new services where needed".

New Books on Many Subjects in Upland Library

Thirteen new fiction books have been added to the shelves of the Upland public library and they include Chaber's, As Old As Can; Coles' The Man in the Green Hat; Dane's The Flower Girls and Gray's, The Virginia Exiles.

Non fiction is also available among the new books which include almost everything from cooking and understanding teenagers to a political handbook of the world. Books on religion, history, resources, the South are only a few of the subjects.

FUTURE FARMERS

Several Chaffey High school Future Farmers have entries in the Hemet Fair which opened Aug. 17. They will also enter the county fair at Victorville, Aug. 24.

Joe Aleman of Cucamonga is exhibiting an Angus steer and Barney Carrari of Alta Loma is showing three wethers.

Farm mechanics entries by Jim Man and Chester Babb of Upland, and Barney Carrari, Alta Loma, will also be displayed.

State President Luncheon Speaker

About 50 Young Republicans of the 10th district gathered in Sycamore Inn for lunch Tuesday to hear John A. Busterud, state president, urge that more young people be enlisted in the organization.

"It is important that local groups become interested in the state organization", he said, "and that they take advantage of the programs and brochures that are available. The aims of the organization are to develop candidates and set the policy".

He reminded the meeting of the policy conference set for Aug. 26 through 28 at the Hacienda Motel, Fresno.

John Rousselot, San Gabriel, state membership chairman and vice chairman of the Los Angeles county Y. R.s also spoke.

Thomas Wallace and William Walk, Jr., welcomed the visitors.

After looking over her wedding gifts, a bride said: "Most of my friends apparently think we're going to live on a diet of pickles and butter". —Grit

Water Scarcity Cited As Need for Aug. 30 Bonds

Cucamonga and Alta Loma Voters Get Plea

Residents of Cucamonga and Alta Loma are faced with a water shortage.

This fact has been reported by officials of the various mutual water firms serving the area and the urgency is being emphasized in the face of the $1,200,000 bond election to finance facilities for using Colorado river water. The election will be held Aug. 30.

Clifton Chappell, manager of the Cucamonga Water Co., said at a meeting of the Cucamonga Basin Protective Assn., that if it were not for a new well put in use last year, members of his firm would be in dire trouble now.

J. F. Grass, Jr., reported that the Ioamosa Water Co., Hellman Ave., well ran out of water at the 500 foot level and that it has been extended to the 800 foot level to serve the remainder of the season.

Likewise, in a borchure to be mailed to all voters, directors of the Cucamonga County Water district are pointing out the need for a supplemental water supply in providing demands of the future.

Excerpts from the statements in the brochure follow:

HISTORY

"We have voted ourselves into the Metropolitan Water District System and are part of the Chino Basin Municipal Water District. We voted ourselves into the Cucamonga County Water district. These things merely allow us to tie into the aqueduct at the connection now installed at Archibald Ave. and Acacia St. Now we must put the water up, through the district, so that groups or individuals may tie into this line and get the water.

"Everyone who has lived in this section during the past 10 years should realize there is an overdraft on our underground supply of water. If the present dry cycle continues for a few more years we will be in a dangerously short supply of water. Just because you have been able to turn on your faucet at will and get water doesn't mean you can continue to do so in the future if a supplemental supply is not brought in. Even with a wet winter, industrial and residential development will require a supplemental supply.

THE PLAN AND BOND ISSUE

"The Board of Directors of Cucamonga County Water District has hired engineers who have submitted a plan and estimate to points that will be available to all parts of the district. Main feature of this plan is a trunk line consisting of reservoirs, a pipeline, and a system of booster pumps to take the water from the aqueduct to the top of the district, and is located near the middle of the district. The final plan depends on what a more detailed survey shows to be the best. This is the main basis for $900,000 of the bond issue. The call will be for a total issue of $1,200,000 leaving $300,000 to help out with added facilities.

DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM COST

"Many water companies have huge investments in distribution systems and it would not be fair to those people to supply those without facilities, pipelines, etc. at the expense of those that already have invested money in providing for themselves. However, the feeling of the citizens committee was that many areas would not be able to finance the necessary installations and if so would not provide proper installations for future development. They, therefore, felt the water district should provide adequate

Become Acquainted With Your Policemen

Fred Strohte Keeps Records On All Persons in Police Files

SGT. FRED STROHTE

Every name entered on the Upland police department records is well known to Fred Strohte. That is part of his job as desk sergeant of the department - getting acquainted and keeping acquainted with every record. Photographic, fingerprint and personal records are filed on every person involved in alleged law violations.

While Sgt. Strohte does not always make all the records on all the persons involved, he must become thoroughly acquainted with every name. And the local record is kept up-to-date if a person in the local files becomes involved in law violations elsewhere.

Of course, Sgt. Strohte does far more than keeping the records.

On "the desk" most of the time, he receives calls from local residents and transmits through the two-way radio system any needed information to the policemen on patrol throughout the city. Frequently, he is on patrol duty or on special investigative assignments.

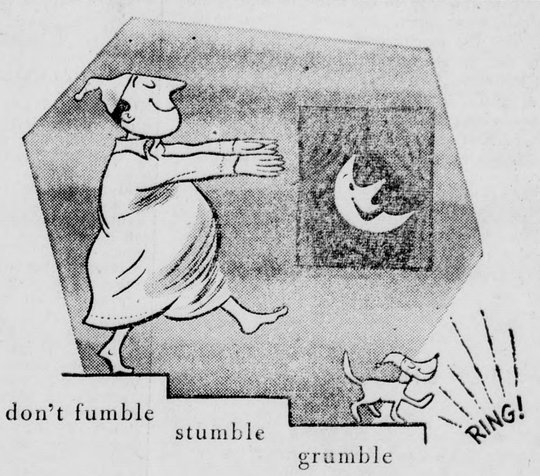

He has been a member of the department eight years. A native of San Diego, he became "introduced" to Cucamonga and the Upland district when as a member of the armed forces he was assigned to the military camp maintained on Arrow Hwy., Cucamonga. This camp is now used by the Southern California Farmers Assn. as a camp for Mexican national workers.

"I had asked for an assignment in San Diego, since that was my home town", Sgt. Strohte explained. "When my orders came through I was being sent to Cucamonga. I had never heard of the place before". A short time later, he and other soldiers were at Red Hill Country club for a social evening. At this event he met Roberta Manley, daughter of City Manager Richard G. Manley.

Since then he had a special interest in Upland, although they did not marry until sometime after the war. A vacancy developed in the department and Mr. Strohte took a merit system examination.

"I really like the Upland area", he declared. "The people are wonderful and it is a great place in which to live and work".

With Mrs. Strohte and their two children, the sergeant lives at 915 N. First Ave. He enjoys singing and is a member of the Upland Methodist church choir.

We Are Glad To Have Water

At long last we are using Colorado river water in this district. At least, it seems like a long time since we first heard talk about the need of getting a supplementary source of water. In any event, that time has come and today the Tioga Mutual Water Co. is receiving water through the Chino Basin Municipal Water district for use to secure a steady flow of water to its members.

Water is expensive—but not half so expensive as to not have it. Imagine, for instance, that we did not have the additional supply. What would members of the Tioga Co. do? Other water companies and the city of Upland are also going to get the use of Colorado river water whenever it is needed. Supposing we couldn't get the additional supply?

This great area in the western part of San Bernardino county belongs to the Metropolitan Water District, thus water can be obtained when and if distribution facilities are built. While there may be some opposition to the use of Colorado river water, we think almost every property owner is very thankful the foresighted leaders paved the way for the additional supply.

Residents in the Cucamonga-Alta Loma district are soon going to vote on the question of financing the construction of distribution lines and storage reservoirs. The bill will total more than a million dollars! A huge sum. Yes, indeed.

From where we sit, however, we would look upon it as a good investment.

Lacking in Art of Living?

The great weakness of the free enterprise system is that most of its goals are materialistic in nature. An ever improving standard of living based on higher income will yield certain non-material by-products, such as better education, better health and maybe more leisure time.

But for a great many people, it becomes a rat-race, a chain reaction of creating material wants and then trying to satisfy them. Why have we done so well in production of food and not so well in the development of sentiments, responsive action to appeals for help and other factors that constitute the art of living?

Our churches should hold an important key. Our universities and other schools have vast programs but few clear ideas. Our extension services have been successful in promoting scientific agriculture but weak in the art of graceful living. We should in this nation be producing more than our share of music, painting, sculpture—all of the finer arts. The brotherhood of man should have its greatest flowering here.

Freedom Rests With Us

Freedom rests, and always will, on individual responsibility, individual integrity, individual effort, individual courage and individual religious faith. It does not rest in Washington. It rests with you and me.

The above statement, made in a pamphlet by the Foundation For Economic Education, Inc., at Irvington-on-Hudson, New York, is something that each of us who enjoy and appreciate our rights as Americans should take to heart. The spirit involved in this statement has made America great and the very opposite to those who look to Washington for a solution to everything.

Kindness has never yet done any serious harm.

Dr. James Latimer — This Life We Live

THE SINGING TOWER

At Mountain lake in the central part of Florida stands the Singing tower, more than 200 feet high and of lasting beauty. The idea was born in the heart of a man who loved the beautiful. That man was Edward W. Bok the well-known editor and publisher of that splendid group of papers and magazines in Philadelphia. He writes that the inspiration for this place of beauty with its Sanctuary, came to him from the stuff dreams are made of. His grandfather had dreamed also.

Something more than 100 years ago the grandfather of Edward W. Bok bought a small island off tht north coast of the Netherlands and transformed its bleakness into a thing of beauty. Not only did birds enjoy the island in their transmigratory flights but many friends visited it and praised the man for his good work. It became a wonder island. But Mr. Bok's dream sprang from an injunction his grandmother gave him and others. She said to this boy, "Wherever your life may be cast, make the world better or more beautiful because you lived in it". That seed thought grew, matured and flowered. It bore fruit.

In line with this injunction Mr. Bok began to make plans. He remembered also his grandfather's good work and was inspired by it. Two friends of ample means joined him. The beauty and the wonder of this sanctuary and the Singing Tower cause visitors from all parts of our nation to seek it out and to live again in its quietness and beauty. There they find rest, music and freedom from earthly strife.

The Tower is of exquisite design and beauty. When the Corillon plays the whole Tower seems to burst into song. The visitors not only hear the great masters of the world but are helped also by songs they have loved to sing and which inspire spiritual yearnings. They hear Stephen Foster, Negro spirituals, and the great hymns of the church, as "I Need Thee Every Hour", "Rock of Ages", "Saviour Like A Shepherd Lead Us", or "Lead Kindly Light". Then at times the tune "America The Beautiful", "The Battle Hymn of the Republic", and other songs of patriotic fervour pours forth.

The 71 bells of the Corillon range in size from the big bell that weighs more than 23,000 pounds, to the smallest one of 11 pounds. These bells are fixed and do not swing. Only the clappers are suspended and move when touched. Programs are played on all national holidays and throughout the week during the season that runs from the middle of December through February. These programs are given on Saturdays, Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Not only do human beings enjoy the quiet of the Sanctuary and its music from the Tower, but they also find spiritual refreshment in this place of beauty. Migratory birds also find a haven of rest and of peace.

So, because of a grandmother's injunction a hundred years ago, and her husbands love of the beauty and quiet of an island off the shores of The Netherlands, we now have in our own land this Sanctuary and The Singing Tower. May we too listen with an understanding heart that injunction of old,

"Make the world a bit better and more beautiful because you lived in it".

HI KIDS . . .

If you've noticed the little squaw, padding in the footsteps of that big Brave, Mr. Barlow this last week, that's been me. And the reason I've been trying to be his shadow is, that I've wanted to catch up to him and tell him a thing or more. About - sshh - HOT PIPES. (Let you in on a secret - I've got some.)

But the thing I wanted most to tell old C. T. (jus' call him pappy, son) is about kids. Any age. That is - if they are young in heart. I know some people who were never young; not at any age they weren't. They were the "drips" of my youth - they are the "squares" of yours. So, c'mon, Chuck, let's leave the City fathers sitting on the front porch, with their clear consciences (and bad memories) trying to convince each other they were never allowed to get away with THAT, in their young days, - and let's you and me take the memory ship back to what the GOOD OLD DAYS were really like.

Back Talk to the Sharps & Flats:

. . .The date is 1928, and, if you're a typical Flaming Youth, you're driving a Model T, or, lucky you, a Model A. You're a real Hot Shot, because you've got a roadster, with a Rumble Seat! You are wearing a sleeveless sweater, bell bottom pants, a hat with a red feather in the band, and, depending on the season, either a coonskin coat or a yellow slicker, on which is painted such sharp comments as "Oh, you kid!" and "Collegiate, Collegiate, Rah, Rah, Rah!" Likewise on the door of your car, is painted "Chicken, here's your coop". . . .Remember, boys? your knees, your waistline at top hip level and ver-r-y snug, you are heavy handed with the lipstick and the rouge and you have a beauty mark just below your left eye. You wear extremely high spike heels and use a l-o-n-g cigarette holder. An ardent advocate of Jazz, you swoon with the crooner with the megaphone. On your yellow slicker is "Boop-oop-a-doop" and "Hot-cha-cha!"

Now dear old friends and gentle people, who lived in my young days, we have a date to go steppin', High, Wide, and Handsome. It goes La - da - de - da, if you're the shy, retiring type. If you're a real cut-up, it squeals like a pig, howls like a wolf, or barks like a dog. You whirl up to my curb, and whatever your horn, you make noises with it. You shout for me to "shake a leg", that "we're gonna make Whoopee"! You demonstrate the "cutout" by roaring down Millionaires Row, scaring the residents out of a year's life.

TIMES CHANGE

'Nuf? So, okay, I'll ease up. In spite of the fact that our parents bemoaned the younguns going to the dogs in the Mad Glad Roaring Twenties, we have become the solid, respected and respectable citizenry of Our Home Town. We haven't reared our families as we were reared; it has been our intention to improve on that. And we have! Our Kids are better than you think. There's nothing wrong with them a few years and responsibilities won't cure. Let's allow that each generation is entitled to the gimmicks of their age. And let us pray that the years won't cut down their energy, enthusiasm and ideals as they have yours and mine.

. . . .Now, excuse me while I run out and put the steel wool in my pipes (thanx, Chuck), cause I think I see old Camera Eye waving a citation. Oh well, small matter - after THIS COLUMN I may not even have a job - 'Bye now.

Your Best Vacation Spot?

The Upland News Asks Residents To Give Choice of Vacation Spots

Asked: "Where would you go on vacation if you had an unlimited amount of time and money", residents of this area replied to an Upland News "question of the week".

In keeping with a new feature in presenting a question each week to residents in the Upland-Foothill area, The News today presents the following interviews:

Sherman Bennett, 713 Ninth Ave.: "I would go to my former home town in Morrilton, Arkansas. My parents and other relatives are there and that would be my first destination. Hunting and fishing are good. I would like to spend as much time as possible at my old home".

R. O. Collier, 595 N. Euclid Ave.: "I would spend a lot of time at Lake of the Ozarks in Missouri. That is where I would be right now if I could. It is one of the largest lakes in the nation, with 1,325 miles of waterfront. Some of the cities near it are Jefferson city and Springfield. Fishing is ideal and it is wonderful for all kinds of water sports. Really, that area is one of the most beautiful places in the nation".

Dale Kelley, secretary in the office of the Upland Citrus Assn., and residing at 592 N. Euclid Ave.: "If I had all the time and all the money it required, I would start out to see the nation. I have seen almost all of the special scenic places in the west. My wife and I have not been in the south and east coast. We would probably head for Florida and see all the places enroute, then go up to Washington, D. C., New York and see everything of interest in the United States.

"Next on the list would be the Hawaiian Islands, then Canada".

Dickie Clipperton, 5½, who was bringing The Upland News subscription up to date for his mother said: "I'd like to go to New York and see everything there and take my mother with me. I've seen it on Disneyland".

His mother, Mrs. A. R. Clipperton, 971 Mesa Ct. had other ideas: "I'd like the mountains, the High Sierras. We went two years ago and it was wonderful. We're not taking a vacation this year. My husband loves to fish and that's why I'd pick the High Sierras. I'm a Californian!"

Mrs. G. B. Warders, 357 S. Sultana: "I haven't thought much about it but I would like to visit Alaska to see my brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCharles, who used to live here. We have a lot of other good friends in Alaska I'd like to see.

"I'd like to fly in and take the boat back."

Mike Seran, 2404 N. Mountain Ave.: "I'm not a selfish man I'd take my wife to Hawaii. She wants to see it and I've already been there five or six times and I don't like it. Then if possible I'd like to tour the U.S. and see all 48 states."

Mrs. C. E. Hogancamp, 9475 La Vine, Alta Loma: "If I had my personal choice I'd say Hawaii. It's always been a dream of mine and I have never been there".

Mrs. Edward F. Liesmer, 465 E. Seventh St., formerly of Montreal, Canada: "Africa! If I could go anywhere in the world that's where I'd like to go because I like to see how the rest of the world lives — how the natives live and I am interested in animals.

"I wouldn't go to hunt them but I'd like to go into the jungle and see them. And I know my husband and my two children, Rebecca, 4, and Eddy, 7, would love that, too".

L. H. Civille, 372 S. Third Ave.; Seattle! It's cool and clear up there and it would be nice for a winter vacation. Or Arabia . . . far away from it all!"

Una Herschberger Weds Joel D. Reeves

Mr. and Mrs. Joel D. Reeves are residing in Barstow, following their honeymoon trip to coast cities.

Una Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hershberger, 710 W. Arrow Hwy. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Reeves of La Junta, Colo., were married in the patio of the Hershberger home, July 29. The Rev. Sherman Maust of the Seventh St., Mennonite church officiated under an ivy covered arch in the presence of 35 guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white embroidered lace over satin. Her full illusion veil was held by a bonnet embroidered with seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a white Bible and two purple throated orchids.

Miss Norma Jean Schowalter, as maid of honor, wore a ballerina length frock of orchid organdy over satin. Her headdress was of orchid nylon tulle and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and orchids.

John Reeves of La Junta was his brother's best man and the ushers were Ronald Maust and Robert Guengerich.

Eighty guests attended the reception held at the church when Mrs. Hershberger chose a dress of navy blue sheer and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an ivory colored frock with navy accessories and both wore gardenia corsages. Decorations consisted of white gladioli and orchids with streamers and floral arrangements surrounded the three tier bridal cake.

Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. Stanley Weaver of Chinle, Ariz., the bride's sister; Mrs. Fred Giese, San Fernando; Mrs. Fred Krieder, Glendale and Mrs. W. D. Hershberger, Los Angeles, the bride's aunts. Miss Nancy Engle and Miss Marie Raser, college friends of the bride, were in charge of the gifts.

Bride Comes Here and Offers To Head Big Red Cross Post

The Upland chapter of the American Red Cross gained an important and useful worker when Mrs. Paul Joseph Kiszeli, 8195 Tapia Via, Cucamonga, came here from her native Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Kiszelli was recently named chairman of the motor service committee, a Red Cross post that is becoming increasingly important.

Since she was graduated from Calvin college, Boston, Mrs. Kiszeli has been active in social service work.

Trained in recreation she spent several years as a Girl Scout executive and her first post was as an administrator in Schenectedy, N. Y. She then went to a Girl Scout post in Springfield, Mass. When World War II broke out she went to San Diego with the U.S.O. and the Red Cross.

When the war was over she served for the Red Cross as a case worker handling claims for dependent parents, widows and veterans in San Diego.

Her greatest adventure came in 1952 when she returned to Red Cross after being with Girl Scouts in Jackson, Mich. and Medford, Mass. work. She spent two years with the U. S. Army special services in Japan. Returning home she went to Ft. Banks, Mass. and worked with the army as a recreation director at a guided missile project.

The biggest surprise about the new Red Cross motor service chairman is that she came here as a bride. She was married early in June to Mr. Kiszeli who is with Convair in Pomona. He had been here for a year. He brought his bride to this community June 13.

Of her new assignment with the Red Cross she says: "I think people who have the training should accept the responsibility.

MRS. PAUL KISZELI

I like the work and I've always been interested in the Red Cross and have the experience".

At present she is looking for four drivers with California licenses who will work with her on the transportation job that must be done for hospital patients and retarded children. Those who accept must be prepared to take the next Red Cross First Aid course. Any further information should be obtained by volunteers from the Red Cross by phoning 31-6173.

Norco Needs Six Nurses

A ward for dependents of service personnel is being opened in Corona Naval hospital as soon as civilian nurses are available to staff it.

Mrs. Eleanor Taylor, executive secretary of the Upland chapter American Red Cross was advised Monday that the Red Cross has been asked to assist in recruiting the six nurses needed.

Those interested are asked to telephone Lieut. Commander Thompson at the hospital, CO 420 Extension 251. She also advises that as there are many employes living in this area transportation will be available through private car pools.

Guild in Business Session at Beggs Residence

Discussion concerned the silver Rosary society under the direction of Mrs. Michael Morgan. Mrs. Beggs served refreshments in the patio of her home.

Grover T. Broughs Upland Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Grover T. Brough and Mr. Brough's mother, Mrs. Florence Brough are residing in their recently purchased home at 601 Ukiah way. They formerly lived in Ontario where Mr. Brough is a teacher at Euclid elementary school. Mrs. Brough, who is employed at Chaffey will be on the administrative staff of the new Upland High school.

The Brough's three children are Barbara Kay, 13; Faye Ann, 6, and Candace Sue, 3.

Mr. Kavenaugh's subject will be the story of Jefferson Hunt, pathfinder and legislator. All those interested in historical facts are welcome. There is no charge.

"Come and meet your old time friends", says P. H. VandenBerg, secretary. "An interesting and instructive evening is promised".

Russell Long and Beth Fagg Honeymooning at Lake Tahoe

Beth Ann Fagg, daughter of Mrs. Al Wisely of Mt. Baldy and Russell Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos R. Long, 681 Eighth Ave., were married Monday evening in the First Methodist church, with Dr. Fred W. Thornburg officiating. Charles Fagg of Mt. Baldy gave his sister in marriage.

The bride's picture gown of lace and net swept to back fullness and a chapel train. A dainty crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a nosegay of yellow rosebuds and white carnations.

Miss Donna Fortner, in an aqua crystalette waltz length gown, tiny net hat and veil carried yellow rosebuds. She was the bride's only attendant.

Fred Wallace was best man and the ushers were Douglas Long, brother of the bridegroom and James Fagg, the bride's brother.

A reception followed in the recreation hall of the Latter Day Saints' church, Campus Ave. and Rosewood Ct., Ontario.

Following a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe the newlyweds will live on W. Nevada St., Ontario.

The bridegroom, who is a graduate of Chaffey High school, is employed by Long Brothers. The bride, who graduated from Chaffey is a dental technician in Pomona.

The property of the lazy and shiftless belongs to those who are willing to face labor and danger.

Many Foreign Students To Be Here for Opening of Classes

Information from the office of the registrar of Upland college released yesterday indicates the Orient will predominate among the foreign student list at Upland college this year. Miss Miriam Bowers, registrar, said that this pattern is similar to most other West Coast colleges.

An application from Cheol Wha Cho, 42-2 Choong-Hak Dong, Chong-Ro Ku, Seoul, Korea, was one of the first students to apply for admission for this school year having had his application in nearly a year. Although the definite arrival of Mr. Cho has not been determined, he is expected to arrive in Upland very soon. Mr. Cho is another one of the many South Korea students interested in gaining an education in the United States. Most of these students have already completed college work in Korea but are interested in learning Western living and Western ideas to incorporate them in their home land.

LIKE DIPLOMATIC SERVICE

Many of these young people who study here from Korea are interested in diplomatic service. The Upland college Korean student last year, Hyung Koo Pak, who received a scholarship upon graduation from Upland college for graduate study at the Montana State university, was one of such students interested in international diplomacy.

From Bangkok, Thailand, by way of Los Angeles, will come Srisamon Gittisarm, a freshman girl, who has been living in the United States for several months. Miss Gittisarm, in a special interview with Miss Bowers has considerable difficulty as yet with the English language but displays an amazing ability to understand.

Preliminary forms have also been received from Sugchkyun Kim from Osaka, Japan, and Jong Doon Lee from Korea also.

COLLEGE HELPS

Upland college is interested in helping students from foreign lands and spreading the American way of life in this means, provides full tuition scholarships for all acceptable foreign students. The students, however, are required to find sponsorship for their living expenses while here in the United States.

Inquiries have been received at this office concerning the possibility of helping worthy foreign students. Through cooperation with the office of the business manager, it has been possible for a number of persons in the Upland community to contribute to the cause of foreign student education by helping to sponsor some of these students.

Anyone interested in making donations of sponsorship may contact the Office of the President, John Z. Martin, at Yukon 313-173.

"Dodgers" Rate High in Play

Playing under the name of "Dodgers," the championship minor league ball team is shown above. Reading from left to right the players follow: front row, Bob Chaffer, Kelly Hughes, and Mike Jameson; second row, Anthony Blatnick, Jamie Blatnick, and Tom Pittenger; third row, John Falkenrath, Craig MacClean and Bobby Ford. The big fellow at the back is Tom Pittenger, who was the team manager, and who has given many hours in the interests of promoting baseball activity.

The minor league players were busy in connection with the summer recreation program and the local squad played teams in other communities with an outstanding record.

Price Goes Up For Lemons

Continuing warm weather in many sections of the country created an active demand for California lemons during last week. Sales by Sunkist Growers declined about 100 cars below those of the previous week, because of lighter arrivals, but average prices on the 425 cars sold during the week moved up 55 cents to around $6.15 a box f.o.b.

Time Passes

25 Years Ago

Lions club members were endeavoring to preserve the power house in San Antonio canyon as an historical attraction. It produced electricity for the world's first high tension wires in 1891 and had been out of use for 30 years when a larger plant was needed.

Ted C. Combs, assistant city engineer, was writing to power companies throughout the nation, seeking dynamos, transformers, insulators and switching equipment of the early period to rebuild the world's first plant of its kind.

Women of Upland were cooperating in plans for Upland's Pioneer Pilgrimage and were planning to wear old fashioned frocks and sunbonnets. Miss Helen Hilty, president of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club and several members offered to appear in the parade as pioneer women.

In the meantime there was great interest in the Whiskerino contest with judging slated for Sept. 9.

G. T. Santolucito's fruit stand and Hunter's Pharmacy in Cucamonga were robbed. Gas company and motor transit money were taken from the drug store, which also lost photographic supplies and flash bulbs. The robbers missed $150, but got away with about $100.

Mrs. H. O. Bohm, who was brought to Upland as a child in 1887, recalled the wind storm of 1888, which swept down from the mountains and demolished the Purvis and Osborn home.

15 Years Ago

J. E. Sargent was elected president of the Upland Library board and Will R. Mason was named to replace A. C. Reynolds, former president, who had moved from Upland. Harold Cook served as acting chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eppler and Jack Isom were lucky hunters. The Epplers got two a piece and Mr. Isom bagged one at the opening of the deer season.

The Lions heard a discussion, pro and con, on conscription with L. J. Horsch presenting both sides of the question. Dr. Earl L. Wenger presided and J. W. Mehl was in charge of the program.

Fred E. Draper was to preside at a dinner of old and new directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce to be held at the Red Hill Country club. C. Ernest Olson, Gene Nisbet, Frank K. Nichols, William Gilliland, Harold W. Cook and Allan S. Barr were the new directors and the holdovers were Warren H. Wass, Paul V. Snyder, Norman S. Lawson, C. Frank Joines, Everett W. Henry and Orton P. Brady.

Ralph Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Owen, an outstanding Upland Boy Scout, had enlisted in the U. S. Navy and was in training at San Diego. He had previously attended a national Boy Scout encampment in Washington, D. C.

The city payroll was reported at $53,129 with the police payroll at $13,650, maintenance of parks at $6,355 and street department salaries at $7,100. Of the balance over $5,000 was for firemen's salaries.

Better Spirit In City Hall, Aim of Uplander

Fewer difficulties would arise in the solution of development problems here if there was a clearer policy and understanding in the city hall as to what is needed in a subdivision project, according to Earl E. Hawthorne.

"As an Upland realtor working with subdividers I have become aware of the complex problems which arise after land has been purchased and tentative plans presented to the authorative bodies in the city hall," he said. "These problems might be simplified if these suggestions were followed:

"Inasmuch as the city manager and the planning consultant are hired for the purpose of advising and of handling preliminary details, these employes should be required to consult with all applicants for subdivision or variance of any type. Many minor details could be solved in this manner, leaving the city council free to devote their valuable time to larger matters of policy".

Mr. Hawthorne, who attends almost every meeting of the city council and the planning commission, observed that if an agreement were reached in advance, "there would be fewer difficulties arise when plans thus cooperatively made are presented for final approval to the governing bodies.

"Preliminary details would have been ironed out, city requirements and interpretations, furnished in writing, and understood by applicants.

"A positive attitude should be encouraged rather than the negative given to interested parties. The spirit of helpfulness rather than discouragement can in itself solve many problems.

"What I would emphasize is the development of a public minded spirit in the city hall and the easing of the burden of details on the city council and the planning commission."

At least the old hitching post had no slot in it that required a coin to insert for the privilege or parking.

Central School Registration To Be Sept. 8

Sept. 8 is the registration date for Cucamonga Central school students. This announcement is for the parents who will have students in the school for the first time, according to James Orsburn, principal. Most of the students, previously in class, have been enrolled for the start of classes Sept. 12.

Double session for kindergartners will be the order until the addition to the school is completed.

Boundaries for the Central school begin at Grove Ave. on the west; the north side of Arrow Hwy. on the south and the spur Santa Fe tracks, east of Haven Ave. on the east and Baseline on the north. When the addition is completed, 16 classrooms will be available.

Willard Heise Buys 10th Ave. House

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Heise are now residing in their recently purchased residence at 825 10th Ave., moving there from 870 W. Arrow Hwy. Mr. Heise, who is service manager for the Colborn Electric Co., purchased the property from Thomas D. Bryant, who has moved to Sacramento.

The safest rule for predictions is to be indefinite about the date. Sooner or later almost anything can happen.—Boston Globe.

Contract Let On New Lighting in Junior High

Citrus Electric Co., Cucamonga is today engaged in placing a new illumination system in the second floor of the Upland junior high school. Contract for the work was granted to the firm on a low bid of $8,383. Carl Masingale and Robert Houser are owners of the company.

The work is to be finished by the start of school next month. This contract is part of the Upland board of education program in improving the lights in the building. Improvements in the first floor illumination were not included in this contract.

The board met Friday to open bids and to act on other school business. Mrs. Ruth Barker, secretary in the office at the Baldy View school, resigned due to the illness of her husband, Constable Sam Barker.

Big Cucamonga, Alta Loma Ball Program Talked

Major steps in the development of an extensive recreational program in Cucamonga and Alta Loma will be taken at a public meeting Sept. 24.

Plans for the possible formation of a baseball league and the community meeting were discussed at the meeting of the Alta Loma Community club Monday night. Herbert Vaughn, president of the Cucamonga Service club, presented the project. He said between 175 and 200 boys would be available for a Little League next summer.

"If we are to have a little league we'll have to form our own organization", he said. Mr. Vaughn explained that Upland and Ontario leagues have so many players they will soon have to exclude boys from outside their communities.

Members of the Alta Loma group wholeheartedly endorsed the project and to support the public meeting.

Francis Wilson reported the Cub scout program will have to be completely reorganized since there are no leaders. Possible Cub Scout membership is 70 youngsters, he said. He reported the Boy Scout troop has a new leader, Bernard Linden and a membership of 35.

Al Bosi, Amethyst Ave., who is Community chest chairman, said the quota was $3,500 and the drive would start in September.

Arthur H. Allen reported on the proposed booth for the San Bernardino county fair and explained that Peggy Woodrow would appear in a dance Aug. 27.

Relative to the public meeting for discussion of the recreational program, Mr. Vaughn said parents and all other interested persons would be invited to attend.

Pvt. F. C. Borovansky With Army Overseas

Pvt. Fred C. Borovansky, 19, son of Mrs. Albie Borovansky, 386 Van Ness Ave. is in Germany as a rifleman in Company F of the 5th Infantry Division's 11th Regiment. He entered in the army in Sept. 1954 and received basic training at Fort Ord. He arrived in Europe in February.

Recently he took part in battalion training tests in Southern Germany.

LEON SELLERS

Leon Sellers, the Upland athlete who gained fame as a U. S. C. fullback, is now up in the air. At least, he has had his first solo flight from the Pensacola, Florida, navy training field.

He will continue to fly and also receive instruction in precision air work along with his regular ward earning his navy "Wings of Gold".

The former athlete is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Sellers, 455 S. Campus Ave. He was a football star at Chaffey high school prior to enrolling at U. S. C.

Uplanders Travel 600 Miles; Extol Hinterland Beauty

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson, 377 Drake Ave., have returned from a week's vacation. Travelling 600 miles between here and San Diego and back Mr. Anderson was enthusiastic about the rugged beauty and variety of the back country on roads east of 395, south of Lake Henshaw and Julian hot springs.

Julian, he said, is a very old town with pines growing down to the post office. Resort interests are in the area now and more will be heard about its attractions.

On the way down, the Andersons toured Palomar and stayed overnight on the mountain at a motel. Between Palo and Pauma valley they saw large avacado groves being planted. There seemed to be plenty of water for them. On the other hand several of the large lakes, including Henshaw are drying up.

Roads were not the only territory covered by the Andersons on their trip. At San Diego, when they visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zaun, Mr. Anderson discovered that the postman who has been delivering to the Zaun home for 20 years is a neighborhood San Bernardino chum, Harry Cook, whom he hadn't seen for 35 years. They had a lot to talk about. The Andersons also visited other former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sanderson in San Diego.

Gilliland Tells of Amusing Experiences In Mexican Trip

Amusing experiences on a trip with his family to Mexico were related by William Gilliland at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Upland Woman's clubhouse Thursday noon.

Mexico city, he said, is a very modern metropolis while that is not so of many other cities, he said. An old system of plowing with the fork of a tree trunk, pulled by a team of oxen, was viewed with interest by the travelers.

Ernest H. Gibson, program chairman, and President Harold Musser were in charge of the meeting. Introduced as a new member of the club was Dr. W. B. Klinger.

Awards Presented to Upland AllStars and Adult Leaders

Members of the National Little league all stars, their parents and others united at Upland Memorial park Monday night for a final get-together, for presentation of awards and to view moving pictures of the play-off game in San Bernardino that ended their further play-off hopes.

Individual play awards were given to Kenneth Walker, as catcher, and to Bill Ryan, Dave Heuston and Tom Solters as pitchers and to the 10 other members of the team. The All-stars were picked as the best players in the Upland National league. In the elimination series, the local team, managed by Robert Neville, advanced to the regional finals, losing only to Colton. The Colton defeat eliminated the team from playing in the Pacific coast finals at Santa Monica.

Neville, Phil Jacoby, coach of the team, and Garwood Warders, president of the Upland baseball commission, were also honored with tokens, presented by the players.

Following the contributed dish dinner and presentation of the awards, the group saw moving pictures of the Colton-Upland game played in San Bernardino.

Members of the Upland Pony league All-stars will soon be given awards as the final act on the diamond program here.

Murder Charge Faced as Body Found at Ranch

Held on a murder charge is Emelio Sanchez, a Mexican "wetback", and dead is Lorenzo Longobardi, Los Angeles produce merchant and owner of an Etiwanda ranch.

Sanchez confessed to San Bernardino county deputy sheriffs to the murder after the man's body was found near his temporary living quarters. After his arrest in a Cucamonga cafe, Sanchez was quizzed in the Upland jail. He is now in the San Bernardino county jail awaiting hearings.

Mr. Longobardi owned a ranch on Highland Ave. near Etiwanda Ave. He went there frequently from his home and business in Los Angeles.

A disagreement between the two men apparently led to an altercation with the victim being struck by rocks and an iron shaft.

An inquest jury here Monday afternoon returned a verdict placing the blame for the death of the Etiwanda ranch owner.

On the jury were H. C. Van Dusen, Earl E. Hawthorne, E. E. Carter, Harry Wright, Francis Wilson, C. B. Mattox and Harry Snowden. The inquest was held in the Stone funeral home.

Water Scarity Cited As Need For Aug. 30 Bonds

facilities and then make a system of charges for connections, thus equalizing the cost of branches of the system and at the same time not costing the whole group, as taxpayers, anything for these supplemental lines.

"As soon as the bond issue passes, the Board of Directors will contract with an engineering firm to draw up a detailed plan and specifications based on the preliminary plan outlined by J. M. Montgomery and Company of Pasadena. Bids would then be taken for the work and the work started, concentrating mainly on getting the main line built with its system of five reservoirs and at least half of the proposed booster system installed immediately. This would serve to take care of the immediate deficit in water supply. Other boosters to be added, as the need arises.

COST OF WATER

"The bond money would build the facilities. This does not mean water delivered to each individual house. It does mean that the district will be in a position to wholesale water at designated points, and water companies, subdividers, etc. must take it from these points. Metropolitan water will cost $11 an acre foot at the aqueduct and is estimated to cost as high as $37 an acre foot near the mountains at the top of the system. It will vary in between these two costs depending on elevation. This cost will be in addition to the bond cost."

Chest Goal For Area is $3,500

With a goal of $3,500 set by the Alta Loma-Cucamonga Chest Assn., tentative plans are being made for the annual campaign to start early this fall. The goal was divided into districts and residential chairmen were lined up for each district. Next meeting of the group will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The meeting at which plans for the drive were outlined was held Thursday in the offices of Frank N. Van Fleet. In attendance were Roy Muehlberger, Charles Smith, Mrs. Ruth Nelson, Arvid Lewis, Lewis Kinney, Mrs. Paul Hofer, Jr., Guy Reed, A. Farrell, Mrs. A. P. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bose and Mrs. Helen McKinney.

Need for a very aggressive campaign was emphasized and all residents were urged to aid in the campaign.

Quick Response To Aid Children Local Red Cross

Uplanders were quick to respond to The Upland News appeal for clothing and bedding for the Cucamonga family who lost their home and belongings in a recent fire, according to Mrs. Eleanor Taylor, executive secretary of the Upland chapter of the Red Cross.

Included in the items taken to the Red Cross or to be called for were a mattress, blankets, bath towels, shoes, as well as enough clothing for all the children, a layette for the unborn baby and some suitable clothing for the mother.

Jobs offered make the picture brighter for this family and the father is assured of work.

Mrs. Taylor also acknowledged assistance of the Veterans of Foreign Wars whose donations from the salvage shop include a stove, dishes, utensils, davenport and chair as well as good clothing for the mother and father.

She said no further donations are required for this family.

Owl Lucky Team Picnic At Park

In recognition of their services, a gift was presented to Marvin Dunn, manager, and to Joe Guerro. Among special guests were Messrs and Mesdames Francis Wilson, C. Masluk, Joe Spillane, Michael Morgan, Harold White and Garwood Warders.

This Is LIFE

BY GERRY McGEER

MY OWN GARDENIAS

This stranger in paradise never imagined she would one day be picking her own gardenias, nor having a trumpet vine, a hibiscus or a bougainvillea. The latter two are pretty small, but all the more pleasure as they will burgeon and bloom.

The shrubs and plants that make California gardening a delight, and so much less trouble when they are established, are a large temptation to the pocketbook. How fast do they grow, how big do they grow and where to plant them in this land of sunshine are questions that stump newcomers. If we are the do it ourselves kind there'll be some surprises in store! But it is fun.

If we take the advice of Mrs. Mary Gillingwators, the begonia expert, and the Paces, of fuchsia fame we'll soon be converting a former backyard into a shade area. Well, we only live once and whatever happens it's going to be interesting!

EATING PLEASURE

Take the pleasure and anticipation out of eating and life is pretty dull for most of us.

On this continent we have a tradition of good eating that is heightened by the variety of dishes brought into our cuisine and put on our dining tables by people of many lands.

Some of the best food is inexpensive, it's flavor and attractiveness is largely in the hands of the person who prepares it. The best steaks can be ruined, just as the best ingredients may result in a poor cake.

How many families we wonder budget their food allowance to $4.28 a week per person? That amount, say authorities of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will do the trick, at an average cost of 20 cents a meal! No TV dinners on those menus, we bet!

Experts conducted the experiment and two young people were the guinea pigs. It was an adequate diet for those people who really like fish. There was plenty of protein and a lack of green and leafy vegetables was made up by whole milk, butter, margarine and yellow fruits supplying Vitamin A.

Except for the fact that there was a lot of fish on the diet over a third as much fish as meat, it sounded pretty reasonable. The final result for you budget conscious folk who try it all depends on the little woman in the kitchen and her imagination as a chef!

PARENTS' RIGHT

Father, that long neglected individual, is at last coming into his own.

"Parents have a God given right to punish their children", said Superior Judge Clement D. Beye of Los Angeles in freeing a 36 year old father charged with beating his sons. Apparently father whipped the children because they misappropriated property. A busy neighbor intervened and father was taken away in the paddy wagon.

A pretty sorry business all around.

The decision of the judge won't have much effect on the rugged individuals who know that the unrestrained youngster is the problem adult. The softies who don't believe junior should be curbed and the mammas who take over for father to bring up the sons of the family will go on turning out impossible adults.

The man who has an interfering neighbor should have some redress other than being freed by the law.

But that's life!

Perhaps if we wait long enough farm relief will settle itself by turning all our farms into parking places, flying fields and golf courses.—Los Angeles Times.
